

WEEK 1: ANIMALS & MIRACLES – MESSAGE FROM HEADQUARTERS

Dear Explorers:

Welcome to the first week of your new adventure! If you hadn't realized, we have specifically selected each of you to be a part of a special journey. Each week, we will be going on a trip to different places and times where God had to do something special in order to help people that really needed it. God is powerful and He could have done many things, but he chose animals to play a part of His plan.

That is what we will be looking at during our first expedition. We have several questions that we need you to answer. First, what is a miracle and why does God need to perform them? This is something that you will need to understand so that you can complete your expedition.

The next question... why animals? God can do anything He chooses to do. So why did God choose animals. And the last question is what can we learn from this week's expedition? This is the most important question of all. Each week, we will try to answer this question and then use what we learned throughout the week in our field assignments.

All of us at Headquarters are sure that you can handle this new assignment and look forward to tracking your progress. Good luck.

Sincerely yours,
